

I am not in favor of any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Privacy law. Before the Indiana law was in place most of our phone calls were very annoying telemarketing calls. They wasted our personal time and filled the answering. Since the Indiana Privacy law, our phone is used the way we choose, with friends & family.

My telephone is a service I pay for and therefore I should have the right to decide how it is used.

Regards,
David Buchanan